

CRITICARE 2010

10th - 14th Feb, 2010, HYDERABAD - INDIA

Hemodynamic Workshop, Criticare 2010

This workshop aims to deal with the questions starting with “Why” that bothers all practitioners of Intensive Care while undertaking hemodynamic monitoring. We hope to cover all aspects of haemodynamic monitoring mainly interpretation of data and appropriate therapeutic approach. The aim is that delegates learn the correct of using the old monitors, after understanding the physiologic principles. He shall also learn the newer modalities available now and their role and limitations in different pathological conditions. He will then be able to formulate appropriate therapeutic hemodynamic strategies for the critically ill.
